WHEN GIRLS RISE, WE ALL RISE.

INVEST IN YOUTH LEADERS WHO ARE CHANGING THE WORLD

No matter their background, girls have the power to transform themselves, their communities, and the world around them – they just need the training and tools to learn how!

Every day, girls from Bangkok to Boston join Girl Up Clubs because they want to create safer, more inclusive spaces where girls can learn and thrive. At Girl Up, we're providing these passionate young activists with the leadership training, tools, and mentorship to become gender equality advocates for themselves and their peers.

Girl Up Club members are part of a growing global movement of young people learning and applying leadership skills to change the world.

Through Girl Up programming, youth leaders broaden their social impact skill set, benefit from a global platform and network, and apply learned advocacy skills to create meaningful impact in their communities.

Through our trainings, girls inform real policy change at the local, national, and global levels; help raise millions of dollars to support United Nations programs supporting girls around the world; and build community-based movements for equity.

Girl Up was founded by the United Nations Foundation in 2010 and works with a global community of partners to achieve gender equality worldwide.
